Cruickshank wins national safety award! Canada's Safest Employers award recognizes best practices and innovation

Kingston, Ontario (November 8, 2012) – Cruickshank has been named as one of Canada's Safest Employers by Canadian Occupational Safety Magazine, winning gold in the Building and Construction category. The national award, which is based on health and safety statistics and innovative practices, was presented to the company at a gala on October 30th in Toronto, Ontario.

“We are absolutely thrilled to be recognized for our commitment to best practices,” says Cruickshank CEO Steve Cruickshank. “Employee safety is number one at Cruickshank – and a core component of our success.” The company has developed a number of initiatives, including safety representatives at each job site, daily safety meetings, annual Safety Days, ongoing training and a Joint Health and Safety Committee.

Launched in 2011, Canada's Safest Employers awards recognize Canadian companies with outstanding accomplishments in promoting the health and safety of their workers. This year, 24 employers were recognized in 11 categories.

“Canada's Safest Employers awards recognize companies from across Canada that are raising the bar in occupational health and safety,” said Amanda Silliker, editor of Canadian Occupational Safety magazine. “These awards allow us to shine a light on the companies that are leading the way in safety excellence, and hopefully inspire others to follow their example.”

Since 1956, Cruickshank has lived by the company motto “we do our level best” – driving ingenuity in road, bridge and infrastructure construction services with an engaged team and leading edge tools to get the job right – every time.
